Week 42: Profiting from Occupation

Dear Kumi Now supporter,

Every week, hundreds of companies and corporations are profiting off the occupation. Sadly, these profits are at the cost of the rights and livelihoods of the Palestinian people. On October 21, 2003 the United Nations General Assembly condemned the Israeli Apartheid Wall, demanding "that Israel stop and reverse the construction of the wall in the Occupied Palestinian Territory." This came a week after the United States vetoed a resolution that would have had the Security Council declare the construction by Israel of a wall in the occupied territories illegal. You can read some of the speeches before the General Assembly. The construction of the wall and all of the illegal settlement activity and related industry have been a boon to Israeli and international companies happy to make money at the expense of Palestinian lives and freedoms.

This Week's Entry

Kumi Week #42: Profiting from Occupation

Week 42 of Kumi Now is now available on the website. Every week, hundreds of companies and corporations are profiting off the occupation. Sadly, these profits are at the cost of the rights and livelihoods of the Palestinian people. On October 21, 2003 the United Nations condemned the Israeli Apartheid Wall, demanding “that Israel stop and reverse the construction of the wall in the Occupied Palestinian Territory.” Building of that wall continues, and it is just one way that outside corporations are directly profiting off the occupation, aiding in its construction and flocking to the industrial zones and settlements it enables.

Please read the essay on this issue and the testimonial from Rev. Dave Grishaw-Jones at Peace United Church of Christ, the first U.S. church to go HP-Free. And here are some facts for you:

Understanding Profiting from Occupation. Some of the international corporations that profit from the illegal occupation of Palestine...

Learning More

- The Don't Buy Into Occupation (DBIO) coalition report was just released, documenting financial flows into illegal Israeli settlements. You can watch a webinar on the report recently hosted by Rabet.
- Who Profits hosted the webinar "Combating a Virus: Militarism and Securitization Under Covid-19" last year, looking at securitization and surveillance under COVID-19 in occupied Palestine and beyond.
- And we suggest you read "Occupation, Inc.: How Settlement Businesses Contribute to Israel's Violations of Palestinian Rights" from Human Rights Watch.

To go deeper, we will be developing an extensive list of Additional Resources at the bottom of this week's entry as well as a YouTube playlist on the subject.

Once you understand the situation you'll want to get involved. Here's the Kumi Action for this week:

Kumi Action

HP means something different for Palestinians living under occupation. Use #HP and play with the letters 'H' and 'P' to send a creative message, illustrating one of HP's many possible meanings. For example, #HP – How Pathetic, Help Palestine, Hear Please the cry of Palestinians, How have People wronged the Palestinians, or How is Peace possible with companies profiting from the occupation. Use one of these messages or get creative and make your own meaning for HP!

Of course, as you can see from the 'Just the Facts' section above, Hewlett Packard Enterprise is hardly the only corporation profiting from the occupation of Palestine. Feel free to adapt this action to whichever company is closest to home for you.

Include a link to this page of the Kumi Now website along with the hashtags #HPFree, #KumiNow and #Kumi42.

You Should Know

One or two people, companies, or organizations generally related to the issue of the week you should know, and how you can follow them online.

Who Profits from the Occupation

Who Profits from the Occupation is an independent research center dedicated to exposing the commercial involvement of Israeli and international corporations in the ongoing Israeli occupation of Palestinian and Syrian lands.

Who Profits was founded in 2007 as a project of the Coalition of Women for Peace, and became an independent Research Center in 2013. Our work addresses the economy of the Israeli occupation through three areas of activity: we maintain an online database of complicit corporations; we operate a free online information center; and we publish regular reports and updates on the corporate aspect of the occupation. Through these, we shed light on the role of the private sector in the Israeli settlement enterprise, in economic exploitation of Palestinian and Syrian land, labor and resources, and in the apparatus of control over the occupied population.

The verified and reliable information presented by Who Profits helps grassroots activists, civil society organizations and policymakers to stimulate a candid public conversation regarding the occupation economy and the global and local economic interests that play a critical role in sustaining Israeli control over occupied Palestinian and Syrian land.

If you want to learn more about specific aspects of the occupation and who profits, we suggest looking at their in-depth reports and searching the database. And if you think a company should be added to their database, there is a form you can fill out.

You can find Who Profits on their website and follow them on Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube.

October 26: Week 43 - Women in Conflict

Read the full entry online.

There is a twisted irony at the intersection of war and gender: war is almost always declared and fought by men. But it is women and children that suffer much of the violence. The end of war is no different: men negotiate treaties, while the voices, needs, and expertise of women are ignored. In reality, however, women, and by extension children, bear unbelievable levels of violence and harm, especially in refugee camps, military occupations, and the ongoing crisis in Gaza.

For our Kumi Action we will hold our own vigils or contact women's organizations to see how they can help the struggle of Palestinian women.

Closing Thoughts

On Tuesday, Dr. Yoad Ghanadry-Hakim of the Palestinian Counseling Center spoke about mental health in Palestine. She also talked about the PGMHN campaign to free Ahmad Manasra, who is still kept in solitary confinement. Specifically, you can sign the petition calling for his release. The replay of the session is now available on YouTube and on our website.

We hope to see you in the online gathering on Tuesday, after which you'll receive another newsletter next Saturday, focused on our next topic, Women in Conflict. As always, there is more to come!

Sincerely,

The Kumi Now Team
